In a rapidly evolving world driven by technology, the IT sector plays a central role in transforming how we live and work. However, as we witness unprecedented advancements leading to increased efficiency, we must also address the sustainability challenges arising in parallel. Sustainable IT practices are vital to reducing the carbon footprint, generating cost savings, and enhancing overall efficiency. By adopting eco-friendly measures, companies can contribute to a cleaner environment and achieve significant economic benefits. Our July IT Peer Group Meeting, led by UWEBC’s Information Technology Practice Director Heidi Rozmiarek, explored how Trane and KMPG are leveraging sustainability in the tech industry to drive efficiency and cost savings while contributing to a greener future.

UWEBC Featured Member: Mike Wygocki from Demco

We are excited to feature Mike Wygocki, Executive Director of Customer Success, at Demco this month! We spoke with him and got insight into what he and his team are up to, what they like about UWEBC events, and how you can take some things he’s learned and put them into practice for your company.

Mike has served as Demco’s executive sponsor and primary liaison with UWEBC for the last five years, and he expressed that one of his favorite things about attending UWEBC events is that he can meet with like-minded individuals at other companies across different industries to share information and best practices.

Welcome new member Godfrey & Kahn

The UWEBC warmly welcomes our newest member company: Godfrey & Kahn! Godfrey & Kahn was founded on five core values: a focus on client success; trust in one another and our clients; a culture of teamwork that helps us achieve more; a strong work ethic; and integrity that keeps us focused on the right thing to do. With a rich history and a commitment to excellence, the firm has established itself as a trusted and reliable advisor in the legal industry. Welcome!
