In today's digital age, where attention spans are shrinking and competition for audience engagement is fierce, businesses and brands are turning to video storytelling as a powerful tool to captivate their target audience and build a strong brand presence. Unlike traditional forms of advertising, which often focus on product features or promotional messages, video storytelling takes a more holistic approach by creating narratives that evoke emotions, spark curiosity, and resonate with the audience's values and aspirations.

Led by UWEBBC's Marketing Practice Director Bill Carrier, participants discussed the power of video storytelling. They learned from experienced video marketers such as Kelly Blasi (Milwaukee Tool), Natalie Hinckley (Hinckley Productions), and Vikram Chalana (Pictory.AI) how to craft a compelling narrative, select the right visuals, and engage the audience with their message.
Heartfelt congratulations are in order for the exceptional members of UWEBC, whose remarkable accomplishments have earned them well-deserved victories at the WisconsinCIO ORBIE Awards. Among this esteemed group of individuals, we proudly acknowledge the following professionals for their outstanding achievements: Sheldon Cuffie of American Family Insurance, Tim Dickson of Generac, and Chero Goswami of UW Health.

These extraordinary individuals have not only excelled in their respective roles but have also made a significant impact on their organizations and the broader IT community. Their accomplishments serve as an inspiration to others, setting the bar high for leadership, innovation, and excellence.
